Sharp R16 Doc

Top-Level Overview

Sharp R16 is a 16 bit functional computer. That is, it has all the components that are required for it to be considered to be a 'functional' computer such as I/O modules, main memory, and ALU and a control unit.

The computer only executes one type of instruction cycle (which is illustrated in the following diagram).